Share the Benefits of Belonging!

If you're satisfied with the products and service you get at the Credit Union, it may be easy to forget that not all of your friends and family are so lucky. Let them in on the best deal in town: Tell them about the benefits of belonging to the Credit Union. They win. You win. They win because they'll likely get better rates and friendlier service than they are currently experiencing at their other financial institution. You win because the more people who participate in the Credit Union, the more efficiently we can conduct business. As a financial cooperative, we pass those savings back to you. Plus, you'll have the satisfaction of knowing that your friends and family will likely be better off for having made the switch. Not everyone is in the know, so please pass the word about the Credit Union. Have them give us a call and we'll help them to a brighter financial future.

Good Money Advice

Money you don't see, you don't miss. Once money hits your wallet or checking account, it's as good as gone. The trick is to make sure you never see the money in the first place. Then you won't have to fret about how to save it - or feel guilty that you didn't. Your Credit Union can transfer money from your paycheck automatically into your savings or investment account - or accounts you set up for clothes, vacation or a new car. Then you can relax, knowing it's taken care of.

Eat from your pantry and freezer once or twice a month. Dust off your cookbooks or do a few Internet searches. Create a weeklong meal plan for how you'll use up what you've already got. During the same week, challenge yourself to spend just $20 to $40 for the week at the grocery store. Get some cash from the ATM (so you're not tempted to spend more on this challenge) and then pick up basics: produce, milk and eggs. This is a chance to save a little extra money in your grocery budget and also experiment to discover a new family favorite.
